

CALL FOR PAPERS

European Workshop in Macroeconomics

June 14-15, 2012

Vienna Graduate School of Economics and Oesterreichische Nationalbank, Vienna

The Vienna Graduate School of Economics and the Oesterreichische Nationalbank are hosting the 2012 edition of the European Workshop in Macroeconomics on June 14 and 15 in Vienna. The local organizers are Monika Merz (Universität Wien) and Paul Pichler (OeNB). The program committee also includes Björn Brügemann (VU Amsterdam), Wouter den Haan (LSE), Salvador Ortigueira (Universidad Carlos III.), and Klaus Wälde (Universität Mainz).

The conference is primarily intended for advanced graduate students close to completion of their Ph.D. who would like to benefit from presenting in front of an international audience before entering the job market. Young post-docs are also encouraged to apply.

Theoretical and empirical papers from all areas of macroeconomics are welcome. Examples of topics of interest include economic growth and business cycles; asset pricing within a general equilibrium context; dynamics of the income distribution; labor market dynamics; international macroeconomics; monetary and fiscal theory and policy. Submission of papers in other related areas are encouraged as well.

All presentations are in plenary sessions, and time will be left for informal discussions. Participants are expected to stay both days.

If you are interested in attending this conference and presenting your work, please e-mail a paper by March 8, 2012 to emw2012@univie.ac.at. The final program will be announced in April. We will be able to cover accommodation for up to two nights and offer a flat fee of 450€ to each speaker (to cover her/his travel expenses).

Please inform potentially interested Ph.D. students about this conference, and feel free to forward this call for papers to any interested parties.
